

The Daily News.

NEWPORT.

BY CHANSTON & NORMAN
144 THAMES STREET.

MONDAY MORNING, OCT. 1, 1855

Thomas Downing, said to be a respectable, wealthy and well known oyster dealer in Broad street, New York, where he has been for thirty years, was ordered out of one of the Sixth Avenue cars the other day, simply because he was of man of color. He refused to go, and a effort to eject him was unsuccessful.

One of the curiosities of Paris is the enormous vine which ornaments the court of a house in the Rue des Marnis, St. Germaine. It is said to have been planted by Racine, and supposing that he did it in the last year of his life, the vine must be now about 156 years of age, as that celebrated writer died in 1699. It is this year in a flourishing condition, and covered with fruit.

A Bedouin Arab Stallion has just arrived in Philadelphia, of the celebrated Kylan breed in Eastern Arabia. He is of gray color and four years old; $10,000 has been refused for him, and his owner requires $12,000. This horse was 160 days on shipboard, during which time he never laid down. He is said to be in excellent health.

A fight occurred in Richmond, Mo., the other day, between the Hon. M. Oliver and Governor King. They were separated just as the Governor was in a fair way to get well whipped. The Governor struck the first blow. The quarrel occurred in the Court room, and originated in the examination of witnesses. The Judge fined them $50 each.

PROSTITUTION IN NEW YORK.—A gentleman in New York names Gould, who has been for some time investigating the causes and progress of crime in that city, from motives of practical philanthropy, has ascertained that there are now living in that city no less than twenty-four thousand unfortunate or abandoned women, and no fewer than fourteen hundred houses of ill fame. This is truly a frightful proportion of the entire population of New York.

DEATH OF A MIKER.—The Chicago Press mentions that a few days ago a minor, named Andrew Grunderson, died in that city from the effects of the miserable food his avarice compelled him to eat, and because he would not take medicines of have a physician, lest he should be called upon to pay the expense. Since his death it has been ascertained that he had $1,000 deposited in a bank, and owned a block in the western division of the city. He left no will, and had several respectable children, who, when he was ill, flocked to his bedside and relieved his suffering all they could.

SINGULAR CAUSE OF DEATH.—Mr. Jos. Carr, the well-known restaurateur of this city, came to his death from a singular cause, at his residence in Charleston, yesterday morning. Some six weeks since Mr. Carr complained that a corn upon one of his feet gave him great pain. Upon making known his complaint, a gentleman recommended Mr. C. to put a clam-skin upon the corn, which he said was a sure cure. Mr. C. followed the direction, when which his pain spread over his body, and it is thought by his friends to have been the cause of his death.—Boston Times.

A day or two since, 153 cases of boots and shoes, which had been imported from the United States, were seized at London, Canada West. A number of gold and silver watches were also found in the boxes. The aggregate value of the articles was about $6000. The goods were held by the authorities to await a decision from the Custom House authorities at Quebec.

GUANO.—The importation of guano into the United States during the last seven years, ending June 30, 1854, was 321,000 tons. The largest importations were from Peru, and the smallest from Africa, being only 148 tons.

Which will give up?—Rev. Gen. J. Doane, of New Jersey, who has recently gone over to the Roman Catholic Church, is said to be a married man, and therefore cannot act as a priest in that denomination. Which will he give up—his wife or his clerical robes?

PERSISTENCE.—There was a marriage last week, in New Orleans, of two persons in the prime of life, in which case the groom had been three a widower and the lady twice a widow.

The wife of Chief Justice Taney is very ill at Old Point Comfort. Medical assistance has been summoned there from Hu-

There is one provision that should have been in the law of Congress making a Retired List to the Navy which we are confident was overlooked through sheer inadvertence; and that is, the making of some compensation to those Officers who might be dropped from the rolls. Without entering into the motives or reason which have induced the Naval Board to recommend that certain officers should be dropped, we presume many, and we should hope all of them, have in former years been active and deserving officers, who have rendered good and acceptable service to the country, and, if now incapacitated to continue to render such service, it affords no reason why, without any previous notice, they should at once be turned destitute on the world without the least provision of any kind. Many of them, with amiable families, were entirely dependent on their pay for the support of themselves and those connected with them, and are now left entirely without resources of any kind; whilst others, from age or infirmities of mind or body, one or both, are unable to do anything for themselves. It appears really cruel under all the circumstances, that they should be cast off by their country in such a summary manner. But, as we before remarked, we have no doubt that this has been a pure oversight on the part of those who framed the bill, for otherwise it would reflect no credit upon either their heads or their hearts; and we presume that it will only be necessary at the approaching session to bring the matter to the attention of Congress to have the error promptly corrected.

We are not proposing a permanent annual allowance to all the officers that have been thus dropped, even at a rate less than the forlorn pay, but we think an allowance to every one of such officer of a year's full pay would be just and reasonable, and would afford them a support whilst they were looking round to obtain an opportunity or make arrangements for their future subsistence. The aggregate amount which would thus be required for all the dropped officers would, in a national point of view, be comparatively small, whilst it would carry comfort and cheerfulness to more than one heart, where despondency and distress now prevails.

We trust that the subject will be brought to the attention of Congress as soon as its session opens.—Nat. Int.

WHAT ARE THE SOUND DUES?—As these dues may possibly give rise to a serious dispute between the United States and Denmark, it will be interesting to know what they are. The "Sound" is a narrow strait lying between the Island of Zealand, belonging to the Danes, and the Swedish coast, and gives entrance to the Baltic Sea. The fortress of Crouenburg Castle commands the passage, and extracts a payment from all vessels entering the Baltic; the ships of Denmark herself have to pay, as well as foreign tonnage. The origin of this exaction is, that in ancient times Denmark undertook to build and sustain certain light-houses along the coast, for which the Hanse towns agreed to pay toll.

England, France, Holland and Sweden pay a duty of one per cent. on every cargo entering the Baltic. Other countries, including the United States, pay one and a quarter per cent.; even Danish ships are taxed to this rate. In the year 1826, a treaty recognizing this duty was concluded between the United States and Denmark. This treaty, however, according to one of its stipulations, may be dissolved by either of the parties, provided they give one year's notice of their intention.

During the Presidency of John Tyler our government determined to put a forcible end to the imposition. Mr. Upshur, then Secretary of State, fitted out a fleet of merchantmen and vessels of war, under Commodore Stewart, which he designed should force its way into the Baltic, and thus at once rid the United States of the Sound dues. Mr. Upshur's sudden death, however, by the explosion of a canon, just as the fleet was ready to start, delayed the expedition, and it was finally abandoned. Other attempts were made to establish this tax. While Denmark was at war with Schleswig-Holstein, Mr. Ulenkenen, the United States Minister, offered on the part of his government, to pay Denmark $250,000 for a ten years' suspension of the dues; his death prevented the proposal coming to a head.

Finally on the 12th of April last, the United States notified the Danish Government of their intention to cease paying the Sound dues, and the stipulation of the treaty will accordingly expire next spring. Should no amicable arrangement of the question be arrived at in the meanwhile, we may expect to see our vessels passing the Sound under warlike convoy. A serious conflict will then most probably arise.

The Danes are much alarmed upon this subject, and fear the United States will seize upon their West India possessions, the Islands of St. Thomas and St. Croix. They are believed to be soliciting the good offices of the French government.

A Good Day.—The following sentiment was received with great zest at a late political reunion:

Our bleeding Country—may it never be Pierced again.

A Gentleman in the New York Evening Post estimates the expenses of a gentleman and lady boarding in one of the hotels in New York for a week, with all charges for washing, bathing, rides, concerts, at the most economical rate, at $2000, the price of a respectable farm.

The wife of Chief Justice Taney is very ill at Old Point Comfort. Medical assistance has been summoned there from Hu-

COAL INSURANCES.—The Chicago Tribune has the following account of a game played by one of the President's former law clients, which is about the costliest specimen of impudence extant. It says:

"Some years ago, a fellow by the name of Brown was arrested for forgery in New Hampshire, and retained Frank Pierce to defend him. After a full investigation of the affair, it was ascertained very definitely that it would go hard with Brown, and that with all the ability of his advocate, a trial would quite surely end in a conviction. In this dilemma he emigrated to the West, leaving his bail to foot the bonds, and his lawyer to whetle for his pay. A while ago, a man by the name of Walker, being about to visit Washington in connection with some railroad project in Minnesota, Brown, on strength of claiming acquaintances with the President, volunteered a letter of introduction to the bottom of which he added, as a P. S.: 'Give me a nickel and I will pay up the old score.' The letter was handed to the President, who after reading it and remarking upon the peculiar coquetry of the request for an office, explained to Walker his acquaintance with Brown."

INDIANA LIQUOR LAW.—In Indianapolis Mrs. Leathem has been released from punishment for selling liquor because the prohibitory law has no provision that females should be imprisoned. Under this decision liquor can be sold anywhere in Indiana by women. At Evansville however, a Mrs. Reid has been fined $800 and costs in one case, $100 and thirty days in jail in a second, and the same in a third, and Miss Castle, her assistant, $20 and costs.
